

Mane event unites mum and daughter

A MOTHER and daughter will saddle up to join the MS Horseride next month.

Kelly Pietraszkiewicz, of Bargo, and her mum Cheryl Lannstrom, of Thirlmere, are taking part in the ride from September 20-27 to raise funds for multiple sclerosis.

Mrs Pietraszkiewicz will ride her 13-year-old thoroughbred Doc while Mrs Lannstrom will saddle up her seven-year-old Anglo Arab, Ricky.

Both women are working hard to prepare their horses for the ride along the Murrumbidgee at Gobarralong.

Mrs Lannstrom, who has been riding since she was seven, said the ride was an excellent opportunity to help others while having a great time.

"We're busy getting sponsors and selling raffle tickets to help the organisers achieve their target," she said. "It is hard getting them (the horses) ready as they need to be worked leading up to the event. It will be Ricky's first long ride but I'm sure he will do very well.

"We decided to do this because we have family and friends affected by MS."
